

Harry Trosclair

CHIEF OF STAFF

Lt Col (Ret) Harry "Chip" Trosclair Jr. is the Chief of Staff for VetJobs and Military Spouse Jobs - two unique nonprofit organizations that provide employment placement solutions and career readiness training for former and transitioning service members (active duty, reserve, and National Guard), as well as military spouses and family members.

As Chief of Staff, Harry has spearheaded numerous high-impact projects. He also assisted in securing various multi-year grant opportunities, resulting in an additional resources for the organizations' programs. Prior to this position, he served as the Executive Project Manager for both organizations.

Harry holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Management, Information Systems and an Associate of Science degree in Electronic Systems Technology. He has also successfully completed a wide range of communications/cyber training and certification programs.

Harry retired from the United States Air Force and Louisiana Air National Guard with just over thirty-two years of full-time (active/AGR) service as an Air Force Cyberspace Operations Officer. He has successfully completed numerous deployments, exercises, and inspections with fixed and tactical communications units.

Harry is a proud husband and father of two. He is an avid traveler and craftsman who is active in his local community. He also continues to volunteer with the National Guard Association of Louisiana as a lifetime member.

 985-351-4165

 htrosclair@vetjobs.org

 vetjobs.org
militaryspousejobs.org