

Deb Kloeppe

FOUNDER AND PRESIDENT

Deb Kloeppe is the Founder and President of Military Spouse Jobs and Founder of VetJobs, two groundbreaking nonprofit organizations dedicated to empowering military jobseekers. Over the past 22 years, these organizations have grown to become leaders in the nation's nonprofit sector, connecting more than 117,000 military-affiliated individuals with meaningful employment opportunities.

With a profound understanding of the unique challenges faced by military families, Deb has made it her life's mission to create pathways for career success and employment stability across the military community. Her unwavering dedication has earned her numerous accolades, including the Department of the Navy's Meritorious Public Service Award, the Hiring Our Heroes Military Community Nonprofit Leadership Award, the National Guard Minuteman Award, and the DOD-sponsored Homefront Diversity Award for her trailblazing leadership in diversity employment. A sought-after speaker and advocate, Deb frequently shares her insights and expertise at conferences and events nationwide.

Before founding Military Spouse Jobs and VetJobs, Deb honed her leadership skills as Senior Director at American Airlines and executive at Concentra Health. She also founded and managed a successful graphics art and sporting goods retail business for 13 years.

An accomplished writer and published author, Deb enjoys expressing her creativity through storytelling. A proud grandmother of four, she remains actively involved in her community, continually striving to uplift and support those around her.
